

"I don't need to introduce you two since you are the one that locked him up in the first place... Not to mention I will probably be able to hear you howling his name from across town tonight. How poetic don't you think?" Villain bursts into laughter and starts dancing around behind Trinity.

Villain slowly starts walking towards Trinity

Nathan pats Trinity on the shoulder.

Nathan walks over to Villain and places his restraints on the villain's shoulder which crumbles from simply touching him.

"I'll see you tonight at Spawn's... Maybe an hour? He has been waiting a long time to see you again so I just won't hold my breath. Good luck super Bitch!"

Nathan stops just before leaving

"One last thing, he hasn't said a single word since his last injection.. Spawn said he can read minds now... some kind of side effect. Ta ta"

Nathan leaves the room laughing.

Trinity takes a fighting stance and the two superpowered figures circle each other.

"Gunther, you don't look so good... You understand that Spawn doesn't care about what happens to you or Nathan?"

Villain stops and turns his head to the side

Heroine lets her guard down.

"That's right Gunther, read my thoughts... I can help you.. I can.."

Villain launches at heroine and pins her arms at her side. Heroine tries to move and she cannot.

Heroine is lifted into the air and her feet are trying to find the ground.

"Gunther... listen to me... We don't have to do this!"

Villain speaks with a low growl " Die..."

Heroine is thrown into the wall, she gathers her wits and gets back to her feet.

"I see you have made up your mind Gunther... you leave me no choice.."

Heroine walks swiftly at Villain and lands a spinning back kick at his chest which causes Villain lose his footing and move backwards one step.

Gathering confidence, Heroine sent a powerful fist into Villain's stomach, doubling him over. With no hesitation, Heroine's knee connected solidly to Villain's forehead.

The blow knocked Villain back into a standing position in time to see a blur that was Heroine's fist. The blow knocked him back another couple steps, but did not send him down. Heroine pressed the advantage, stepping forward to swing another blow. Heroine takes a step back.

"For being a mind reader you really suck at this"

Villain quickly shook off the cobwebs and deflected Heroine's blow and following with one of his own, smashing into Heroine's jaw. Determined, Heroine swung back and connected as well.

Heroine and Villain exchanged several punches and eventually Heroine started to look tired while Villain looked as he did before they started. The two locked up and shoved each other away. Heroine was started to breath from her mouth and it was evident that she was getting tired.

Villain stood before Heroine and punched his own face and energy exploded off his body.

"Not going how you expected Gunther? My powers are real... and yours are just a souped up protein shake.."

Heroine launched forward and swung with her right but it was caught, then with her left and it was caught as well. Villain cracks a slight grin and headbutts Heroine which stuns her as she stumbles backwards.

The next instant seemed like a lifetime. Villain pulled back his leg and viciously kicked heroine between the legs.

Heroine was incapacitated by the pain and dropped to the ground.

Villain circled her once as she got to her hands and knees.

"Weak..."

Heroine didn't have a chance to see his boot barreling towards her head. It hit with thunderous force and launched Heroine on her back. Heroine tries to locate Villain but her vision only allowed for a blurry incomprehensible room. Heroine rolled to her stomach and got back to her hands and knees.

Villain came out of no where and gave her a massive kick to her crotch from behind. Her hair flung backwards from the blow as she howled in pain. Heroine tried to crawl which gave Villain another opportunity to strike. Villain connected so hard that Heroine flipped forward onto her back with pure horror on her face as she moaned.

"To.. much.. pain... I can't... he is too strong...."

Villain towered over Heroine with a smile as he watched Heroine squirm in pain.

"Defeated.. " Villain slowly laughs at Heroine

Heroine's proud chest heaved up and down as she breathed deep and rolled to her stomach, her legs showing no life and her arms slowly trying to pull her to safety. Villain stepped forward and nudged her on to her back again, His boot hovered over her neck.

Heroines eyes saw his boot and then looked up at Villain's ice cold stare..

"Fear...."

Villain slowly pushed his toe down, pressing it onto Heroine's neck.

Heroine's tried to speak but she was only able to muddle a few words.

"Please... stop... I.. I can't breath.."

After watching Heroine futilely try to pry his foot away from her neck, Villain grabbed the front of her costume and cruelly punched Heroine's face over and over and over.

Heroine hung lifelessly from Villains grip on her costume.

Villain pulled back his fist and energy exploded from his hand.

"Gunther!"

Nathan walked back into the room

"I got bored... and Spawn was worried that Gunther here might do something silly like break you in half... As much as I would like to see what happens next... Spawn would not be happy if we brought him a lifeless Trinity and no Serenity.."

Villain drops Heroine to the floor. She is barely moving.

Nathan kneels down next to her.

"Now.. I know what your thinking..." Villain said, his hand violently gripping Heroine's costume and pulled her face close to his.

"For the first time in your spoiled rotten life you are wishing you weren't a super heroine... You're powers are not even worth harvesting... You're no Superhero..."

Nathan drops her back to the ground and tosses her a communicator.

"Now be a good little super wimp and contact Serenity"

Heroine grabs her communicator

"Well go on! Do it!"

Heroine looked up at Nathan laughing at her and then back at the communicator.

She then looked up at Villain.

Heroine looked down at the communicator and then up at the security camera. She slowly moved the communicator to her lips and Villain broke out in laughter.

"We are making history Gunther! One of the city's most feared crime fighter is about to tap out and its even going to be on tape!"

Heroine looked up at the laughing Gunther again and then back to the security camera.

"What I am about to do.. I do for the good of man kind. Serenity... please forgive me..."

Nathan rolls his eyes "How touching... now get on with it! Enter in Serenity's code and tell her to come save your pathetic ass!"

Heroine starts to enter in the code on the communicator. Nathan and Villain grow with excitement with each number pressed.

The communicator starts to emit a strange noise and then the automated voice states "Connecting to contact seventeen"

Villain looks down at Heroine and then whips back to Heroine. He starts jumping up and down like a crazed ape! He pulls back his hand with balled up energy emerging.

"Gunther! Stop! be patient.. "

Villain shakes his head violently... "Noooooooooooo!"

Nathan looks concerned at Gunther " If you have something to say then just say it big boy"

The communicator says "Connected"

A pin drop could have been heard for miles and both Villains look on... Nathan with a look of sinister delight and Villain backs up.

"Thank you for calling Billy Bob's Pizza Shack, how can I help you?"

The smile on Nathan's face is wiped clean and replaced with disbelief.

Heroine looks on with a slight grin "Sorry... wrong number"

Heroine crushes the communicator.

"YOU CRAZY BITCH!!! Look at what you've done!!!" Nathan bellows.

Heroine rolls backwards to her feet and takes a fighting stance.

Nathan charges at Heroine and is met with an energy blast to the chest. He tumbles to the ground and looks up at Heroine

"You ruined everything!... Spawn will never give me my next treatment now!"

"Gunther! Destroy HER!"

Gunther charges up his energy blast and so does Trinity.

They both emit at the same time and collide in the center of the room.

Trinity strains with every thing she has and starts to overpower Villain and collapses his stream.

Her blast hits Villain and pins him against the wall but he starts pushing his way toward her.

Villain makes his way to Heroine and grabs her neck. Heroine grabs at his arm with no success as she is lifted off the ground.

"You... won't.. win.."

That was all she could get out before she was choke slammed to the ground.

Heroine lays on the ground completely disoriented.

Nathan walks up

"Was it going to be too embarrassing? Maybe you thought you could actually take Gunther? or did your silly little mind some how compute that you were saving Serenity..?"

Villain yanked on her hair so she was looking straight up into his eyes.

"Since your staying, lets make you a little more comfortable! Gunther... she is of no more use... do what you want"

Villain extended his arms and roared.

Villain mounted Heroine and ripped apart her costume! Heroine moaned in protest "Please.. You can do this to me.."

"Are you kidding me? Since we are getting this all on film I can guarantee you there are millions of your fans that have always wondered what you look like without your silly little costume!"

Villain left only a few tattered remains of her uniform in tact as he stood over Heroine trying to cover up her bra and panties with her hands.

Villain picked her up, pinned her arms to the side so she could no longer cover he bra and panties.

"Smile Heroine... your going to be on this months cover of Superheroines Illustrated! The Punished Edition!!!!"

Villain placed Heroine in a bear hug and slowly started to squeeze. Heroine found it harder and harder to breath and as the pain of being crushed took over her senses.

He applied more pressure and Heroine screamed out kicking her legs about.

Villain let go of Heroine and she dropped face first to the ground trying to find air and placing her hands on her damaged torso.

Villain grabbed a fist full of hair and dragged the terrified Heroine to the wall and placed her against it. Pushing his left forearm into her neck Villain unleashed a series of blows to her mid section.

The already short of breath Heroine pawed at his forearm with no success.

"Still glad you destroyed your only chance of help?" snarled Nathan as Villain let her slump to the ground grabbing her stomach.

Villain spit on the ground next to Heroine and picked her up by her hair.

Heroine is lifted into the air and placed across the Villains back. With one hand around her ankle and the other with a fist full of hair he contorts her body. Heroine moans as her bones start to give way.

"Drop her Gunther... Put her down man!"

Villain drops Heroine to the ground and stands over her.

Villain grabbed her hair again and stood her up. Heroine looked on at Villain with feelings of despair and hatred but didn't have the strength to fight back.

"So check this out.. As tempting as it is to permanently end her joke of a career wouldn't it be far more fun to do it again... and again... and again...?"

Villain put his mouth an inch away from Heroines Ear.

"Again..."

"If you so much THINK of getting in our way..."

Villain gave her hair a slight yank forcing a yelp from Heroines lips.

"Your humiliating attempt of stopping us WILL become available to every human being with a TV or computer..."

And next time.."

Villain snaps back Heroines bra strap as she gasps.

"Let's just say you better hope there isn't a next time!"
