Jessica walks in the kitchen, turns on the radio and pours a glass of water.

Jessica listens to the radio report with no concern

Reporter "Today's top story, Possible Nuclear Terror. Two men were seen last night outside Kellford Nuclear Industries, the nation's leading Nuclear research facility. "

Jessica "hmmm... Sounds like my new boyfriends"

Jessica turns up the radio

"Eye witnesses report seeing the men approaching sector 7 which is home to Kellford's ground breaking anti-matter division. A security detail attempted to confront the men but according to the security team, they vanished..."

Jessica "Bingo.."

"We have received a statement from James Kellford, CEO regarding this incident"

James voice " We are working with all levels of law enforcement and have launched an internal investigation"

Jessica hears a noise from the other room and turns off the radio

She walks into the living room

Scene 8

Actors: Haley, Jason

Location: House

Costume: Sexy outfit she bought at the mall and Nova costume

"If you're looking for Nuclear power I doubt my DVD player will be sufficient.."

Jessica sees a figure enter a room down the hall, She takes a few steps forward

"But if you're looking for trouble..:

Jessica stops and senses something behind her, whips around and grabs him.

"Then you've found it.."

Jessica throws the man across the room who hits the wall but doesn't crumble to the ground like she expected. He extends his arms and orbs of energy appear in his hands.

Jessica "Now how did I know that might be coming..."

Jessica transforms into Nova and takes a defensive stance with energy emitting from her hands.

The man shoots out pulses from his hands that are met by energy from Nova which dissipates his attack. Man launches himself at Nova throwing a wild right hand which she dodges but as she blinks he is behind her and lifts Nova in a vicious bear hug.

Nova is not able to break his grip so she burns his arms with her hands forcing him to let go. Nova turns to face him but he is again behind her and punches Nova in the side, then he appears in front and catches her in the face, stomach and face. Nova cannot keep track of the man is now behind her again and slams her to the ground face first.

Man pins her down

"Nova... I am not your enemy."

Jessica "You have a funny way of showing it"

Man "I am going to let you up but first you must stop fighting me"

Jessica " Hey if you let me up it's not my fault if you become a TV dinner"

Nova pushes him off and rolls to her feet. Nova takes a swing with a right and left but the man easily dodges her attacks. Nova is hit in the stomach and then an upper cut. Man appears behind her and throws her to the ground by her hair and straddles Nova.

Man "I had to know it was you. I am sorry for the confusion"

Jessica charges up both hands which are grabbed by the man and her energy disappears from her fists.

Man "Please.. we don't have much time"

Jessica tries to charge up her hands two more times and her powers seem to be nearly gone.

Jessica looks up frustrated at the man "Arrrggghhh.... I don't know how you are suppressing my powers but since it looks like I don't have a choice.... talk!"

Man "Divinity sent me... my name is Kailis"

Jessica goes from annoyed to calm and loosens her grip. The man pulls back his arms and gets up.

Jessica rolls up to her feet and takes a defiant stance. "Divinity doesn't waste her time with lower level beings like us..."

Man " That is mostly correct... unfortunately it is a lower level being that now poses a threat to Divinity and any other superheroine of her stature.

Jessica "And who is this mega powered titan that Divinity is afraid of..?"

Man " Creighton Spawn.. He has..."

Jessica folds her arms with a smirk and interrupts Kailis. "Ok... you have to do better than that... Creighton Spawn already has too much to handle with Avalon... It would be suicide for him to challenge a near God..."

Kailis puts his head in his hands and shakes it back and forth.

Jessica “ In fact the only force on this planet that could probably take Divinity is too busy flying around the earth as a red, blue and yellow God that is probably pretending to give a shit about any of us.”

Kalis interrupts Jessica “ And that is exactly who Spawn will go after if he is able to harvest your powers...”

Jessica “What do you mean harvest?”

Kailis “Spawn has successfully captured and stolen powers from six superheroines and your impossibly hot hands are his last piece of the puzzle. The two men that were scene at Kellford Industries were Spawn’s cronies. If Spawn captures you then he will head straight for Kellford and create something that will be virtually unstoppable, even by you know who..”

Jessica squints her eyes “I am not exactly easy to capture.. my powers are far greater than..”

Kailis interrupts “ You don’t understand... Divinity would not have sent me if she believed you could stop Spawn. My only problem is that she has forbidden me from helping you unless you decide it’s necessary.

Jessica straightens out her gloves “Kailis, you are free to go..”

Kailis whips around to the window “He is here.. please come with me”

Kailis grabs her wrist but it is ripped back.

Jessica places her hands on her hips “It’s superheroines like Divinity that need to have a little faith. I will prove to her, AND you that Spawn’s little henchman cook just like any other recipe... crispy!”

Kailis looks out the window and whips back around at Nova. He places a necklace in her hand.

“Divinity thought you might refuse so take this necklace... If you get into trouble I won’t be far away.”

Jessica stares at the necklace for a second and rolls her eyes. Kailis takes the necklace out of her hands and places it on her neck and appears to leave. Kailis comes back a second later and kisses Jessica who is surprised. “ Divinity didn’t say I needed your consent for that of course.”

Jessica shoves him and points to the door.

Kailis exits.

Jessica tucks the necklace in her costume and goes outside to confront the Villain.

She hears a noise in adjacent shop and heads for it.

Jessica bursts in and see’s the man standing in the middle of the room.

“So it’s me you want... for Spawns little science experiment”

The man takes off his sunglasses “No... you are not necessary”

Jessica looks confused “Then what the hell did you come for?!?!”

Man takes a step forward “Your blood..”

Scene 9

Actors: Haley, Villain

Location: House

Costume: Nova

Nova wastes no time and blasts him with a white flame. The man raises his arms like he is enjoying it and taunts Nova "Is this all you got... hero.."

Nova concentrates and hits him with everything she has. She strains from the exertion and the villain starts to laugh at her. "You should have taken his advice... I will enjoy breaking you just like I enjoyed breaking Serenity.."

Shaken by what the villain just said, Nova is no longer able to sustain the white fire. She pants and looks on at the man through tired eyes as he approaches.

Villain bats away her feeble attempt to strike him and lifts her off the ground by her throat.

"After we have your blood... there will be NO one left on this planet capable of stopping us.. Every hero and world leader will bow down like the cowards they truly are!"

Nova is dropped landing face first and her necklace dropping to the floor. The villain snatches it up and looks at it.

"Kailis..."

He crushes the necklace and tosses it aside, however it starts to change colors!

The villain pulls out a strange device and places it on the table.

"Spawn gave this to me to remove your blood..."

Villain throws the device behind him.

“But I prefer to take it the old fashion way!”

In an instant she is picked up and shoved against the wall. Villain delivers countless punches to her face and stomach, lifting her off the ground each time she collapses.

Villain finally lets her fall and watches her try to crawl to the necklace.

“No blood yet... I'm impressed!
